Monday, 7/26/21 Keynote Speakers: DANIELLE COWLEY, JESSICA KRUCKENBERG. Dr. Cowley is an Associate Professor in the Department of Special Education at the University of Northern Iowa. She teaches courses in humanistic behavior supports, inclusive education, best practices for students with significant disabilities, and educational and post-school transitions. Dr. Cowley serves as an Educational Consultant for the state of Iowa in the area of Specially Designed Literacy Instruction for students with significant disabilities. Danielle has published and presented extensively. Jessica is special education teacher and K-12 instructional coach for the Waterloo, IA Public School District. Jessica has taught inclusive practices and strong differentiation strategies that equitably teach all students in the buildings she supports. In their keynote address, “Learning Better Together: Including Students with Significant Disabilities in Comprehensive Literacy Instruction,” these presenters will share instructional strategies and resources to support all. Real-life examples will be shared - leading for inclusion, collaborating across general & special education, designing evidence-based & inclusive literacy instruction, and delivering for high learner engagement.

This Pre-Conference day will include a selection of forums focusing on effective tools for teaching and supporting students with significant support needs. More information will be available on these forums in March. Check our Website: BeloinandBrandl.com.
